1. [ ] Talked with Boyd Crawford, House Foreign Affairs Committee staff, who attempted to arrange a meeting with Chairman Morgan which is now set for three o'clock tomorrow on the study of foundations by the Fawcett Subcommittee. ✓ 25X1
2. [ ] Attempted to talk with Senator Howard W. Cannon and in his absence talked with John Hayward who indicated the Senator possibly would be called back into town. On that basis I furnished him with the one-page briefing sheet on our early retirement bill asking that it be brought to the Senator's attention. Mr. Hayward assured me the Senator would be interested and if they had any questions they would be in touch with the Agency. 25X1
3. [ ] Attempted to talk with Senator Henry M. Jackson and in his absence talked with Miss Dorothy Foadick who indicated the Senator possibly would be called back into town. On that basis I furnished Miss Foadick with the one-page briefing sheet on our early retirement bill asking that it be brought to the Senator's attention. Miss Foadick assured me the Senator would be interested and if they had any questions they would be in touch with the Agency. 25X1
4. [ ] Tried to meet with Senator Stuart Symington who had just returned from the State and could not see me today. I discussed our early retirement bill with Jim Gehrig who in my presence dictated a memorandum on the retirement bill to the Senator. Gehrig was certain that the Senator would be happy to do anything he could and would let me know if the Senator needed any further information. 25X1
5. [ ] Jay Sourwine called and indicated that in the most recent issue of ESQUIRE, on the newstands tomorrow, there is an article by William Worthy concerning American negroes in Communist China. According to Sourwine, this article indicates there was a meeting in Peking between American negroes and Communist Chinese. He said that regardless of Worthy's article, he would like to know if such a meeting took place. I told him I would look into this and be in touch with him. 25X1
